Application and Selection Process for government-funded post-doctoral program
at the Department of Industrial Engineering — DEI/PUC-Rio

The Industrial Engineering Department at PUC-Rio (DEI) provides one post-doctoral scholarship funded by the Brazilian government – Programa Nacional de Pós-Doutorado (PNPD)/CAPES (<http://www.capes.gov.br/bolsas/bolsas-no-pais/pnpd-capes>). The applicants' research field must be related to one of the areas of concentration within the Department of Industrial Engineering (Operations Management, Operations Research, Finance and Investment Analysis, Transportation and Logistics).

It is recommended for the applicants to:

- hold a Ph.D. degree (when the scholarship is implemented);
- have strong skills and motivation for carrying on research, demonstrated by means of publications in international journals;
- have adequate teaching skills for courses at the undergraduate, graduate, and continuing education levels;
- be proactive, able to easily build rapport with people, and stand out within the department and elsewhere.

Applications must be sent to teti@puc-rio.br by July 26th, 2019, with "Selection-Process" written in the subject field and sent in care of Cláudia Teti. For additional details, please contact Prof. Fernando Cyrino (cyrino@puc-rio.br), director of graduate studies of DEI/PUC-Rio.

The grant offered by CAPES comprises a scholarship of R$ 4.100,00 per month, while the university PUC-Rio provides the possibility of an additional funding of R$ 1.000,00 per month.

Applicants must submit/send the following documentation upon registration:

- Updated Lattes curriculum vitae or equivalent for foreigners;
- Research proposal (maximum 4 pages);
- Copy of an identity document;
- Copy of undergraduate and graduate degrees (or statement of completion);
- Copy of undergraduate and graduate transcripts.

The candidate assessment and selection process will be carried out by the General Committee of the Department of Industrial Engineering. The selection process follows the schedule:

- June 26, 2019 – Application start-date
- July 26, 2019 – Application end-date
- August 05, 2019 – Deadline for announcing the results
- Scholarship starting date: from August 2019.

The Graduate Committee of the Department of Industrial Engineering/PUC-Rio reserves the right to change the schedule and the selection process to attend the needs that were unforeseen at the time of this writing.
